OUT OF GOFF'S JURISDICTION.

Public Works Commissioner Daly Says Croker Is a Very Sick Man.

Mr. Richard Croker, ex-Boss of Tam many Hall, secretly departed for Europe this morning on the Cunard line steam

He finally consented, however, to take a note from the reporter to Mr. Meyer asking for an interview, but presently returned with it before Mr. Meyer could have had a chance to read its contents. "Mr. Meyer has nothing to say," he epeated, with a sarcastic smile. John W. Goff, attorney to the Lexow mittee, attached no significance to he sailing of Mr. Croker and his sons at this time.

"I hal heard it rumored to-day that he was about to sail, but was not in-formed positively," Mr. Goff said. "Was it your purpose to subpoena him before the Lexow Committee?" Mr. Goff was asked.

"I don't want to say anything about that," was the answer.

Mr. Jerome, junior counsel to the Investigating Committee, was seen at the General Sessions Court Building. He had not learned that Mr. Croker had gone, and appeared to be very much surprised

"Mr. Croker was not a member of the Police Department, or connected with it n any official capacity," said Mr. Jeome, in reply to a query as to what he thought concerning the ex-boss's sudlenly undertaken journey, "and therefore I don't attach any significance to is move.

They will also remember that, with all its blow and bluster, the Fassett Committee was considerable of a dismal failure as a prober of municipal corruption. But things have changed since the Fassett Committee died. The Parkhurst crusade has stirred New York as it was never stirrred New York as it was never stirrred before, and shaken the Police Department, the keystone of Tammany's power, like a slight earthquake which preceded the terrific upheaval caused by the Luxow Committee during the last week.

Thme investigations of Senator Lexow and his colleagues, aided by the relentless probe of Lawyer John W. Geff, have shown beyond reasonable doubt that Tammany's power has depended largely upon the Police Department, and that the latter's methods are rotten to the core.

More than one prominent Tammany man has been directly implicated in this corruption, and this may have made Mr. Croker hesitate about remaining where he, the man who knows better than any one else, wherein Tammany's power lies, could be summoned before the industrious investigators.

Mr. Croker made a good showing before the Fassett Committee, but there is a popular belief that, like some of his minions, he might have become rattled had he come within range of John W. Goff's rapid fire investigating gun.

The examination of the membership roll of this Club has revealed the fact that it includes the names of a large number of police officers, from captains and inspectors down to humble patroimen, all of whom are supposed to avail themselves of the "political puil" which membership in this Club is believed to confer.
